Friends! What you hold in your hands is my very first mini-comic, which never would have happened without the support of my friends.

Thanks, Spanks, and Dedicated to:

♥ Macni Scotten, Dylan Meconis, Bill Mudson, Vera (Beans) Brosgol, Kevin Hanna, Jen Wang, Jenn Manley Lee, and my family.

You should see their great comics online by visiting the 'Links' part of my website (see above!), they're all great (duh, I used the same word twice in one sentence) artists - Except for Macni and my family. They don't draw much at all, yet I love them still. They've made me the comics-creating-monkey I am today.

Thanks for reading!

The Easy Bake Oven

Even tho' I couldn't have been more than eight...

I still remember it like it
was yesterday.

It was X-mas
season and mom
had taken me
on an errand
to 'Fred Meyer'

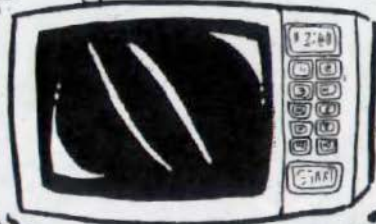

I SAW

IT

* Right down from its sleek pink and white smooth
plastic.

THE Easy Bake Oven

I had to have it.

It had to be MINE.

* ...and all those tiny confections
I would be able to make in minutes... ①

It was the right size.

The right
shape.

Right weight.

Oh, God!

It had to be!

They gave me...

a Geo Saphari.

A Geo-fucking-Saphari.

with unp!

God had crossed
the line.

We had a deal,
Lord!
A DEAL!!

A young girls'
hopes, my very dreams...

had been nothing but a cruel game to the Almighty.

I swore off
God from that moment on.

And so help me, I've been a godless youth
ever since.

Macni Poem

A poem for Macni without any words which rhymes in ridiculous witty ways never before thought of.
