

with Helen Keller
and Stephen W. Hawking

Command your temper, lest it command you.

REBEL FUX #13

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ 5/97

Just because Someone can't talk
doesn't mean they don't have nothing to say...

This issue is dedicated to Phyllis Jackson (who did the poster)...

Rest in peace
Sweetheart!!
- Kate Huh, Editor

REBEL FUX 18 First Ave.
#15 NYC 10009

Charity obliges us not to mistreat a man; prudence, not to trust before we know him.

commend any one hastily.

WHY VEGETABLES?

I understood a good deal of what was going on

Why don't we notice all these extra dimensions, if they are really there?

Everything that I reckoned moving seemed the best way of unifying gravity with the texture of my mind

and

with other forces.

It seems to me that there is in each of us a capacity to explain the existence of the universe.

the universe
might be expanding.
I knew on my fingers.

and I grow hot and indignant

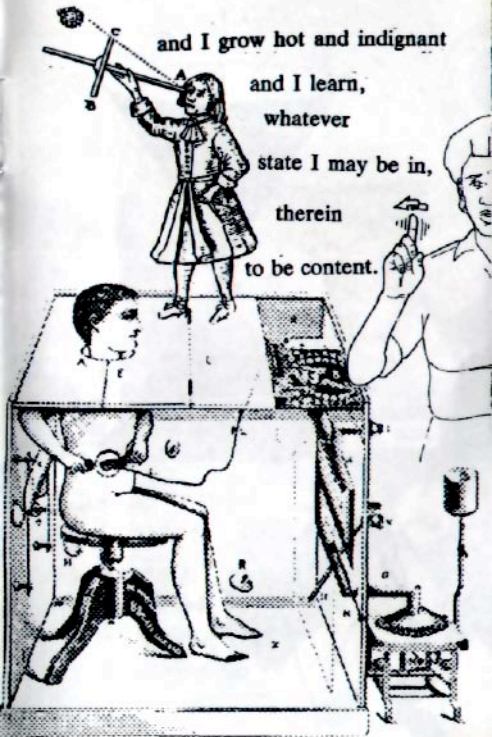

and I learn,

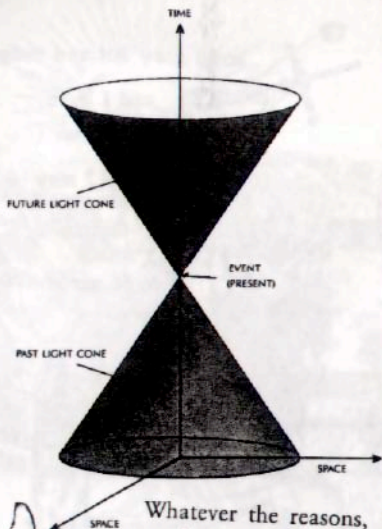

whatever

state I may be in,

therein

to be content.

Whatever the reasons,
It shows me that I could express
beautiful
and poetic ideas
the surface of a star.

bright as the sun,

even at night.

Ah, here they are—the forces from those that were farther away.

Where Are All The Baby Pigeons?

I asked my friend, Dona (who knows about birds), she told me, "In their nests, or they would be dead." (She was in a bad mood when I asked her) I explained that someone had asked me this, and it seemed like a reasonable question. Then Dona warmed up and told me that you can tell the younger pigeons by their (less scaly) feet and because they are "bolder."

- Kate Huh

"More grows in the garden than the gardener has sown."