I LOVE TO THROW
HIM IN THE BED.

ANONYMOUS BOY '98

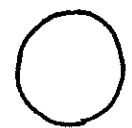

A black and white line drawing of a person lying in bed, looking up at a radiator. The person is in the foreground, partially covered by a blanket, with their head tilted back and eyes looking towards the radiator. The radiator is a large, vertical, ribbed structure that fills the upper half of the frame. The drawing is simple, using bold lines for the radiator and the person's features.
